

HORROR BEGAN when this runaway truck swerved off Route 611 onto old road, mounted upgrade, then plunged off cliff in center when old road ended in mid-air near Hawthorne Inn yesterday. Thirty-foot cliff is higher than it appears in photo. Falling truck missed crushing a passing auto.

CHARRED BODY of Henry W. Carpenter, Brockport, N. Y., lies tangled in burned debris in cab after Mount Pocono volunteers quenched fierce flames caused by exploding gasoline.

SPRAY CASCADES over wreckage as firemen extinguish last of flames. Trailer was loaded with canned goods. Contents slid and rolled all over highway. Carpenter was first victim in Monroe County this year, but not first at this spot. Other truck drivers have been killed by following same fatal path up old road. Another photo on Page 5.

Democrats Pledge Cooperation

Open Congress With Promise To Eisenhower

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 (AP)—The 84th Congress opened today under Democratic control, with its new leaders saying they will try to do business rather than battle with President Eisenhower and the Republicans.

As Rep. Sam Rayburn of Texas put it, in a two-edged speech upon taking over again as speaker of the House:

"Just because another party holds the executive branch of government, that does not mean we are going to look on legislation from a partisan standpoint."

Then, with this bow to harmony, Rayburn indignantly recalled charges by some GOP orators in the 1954 campaign. He said that Democrats "are not an accusing kind of people" who charge others with subversion and being "soft on communism."

"We're not going to indict people en masse. No Democrat is going to talk like that without being frowned upon, or repudiated, by me."

Practical politicians to the last man, the senators and representatives were fully aware of the political prizes at stake in the 1956 presidential year, and the effect their actions will have.

The very first bill officially introduced in the 84th Congress today could cause a real ruckus.

Offered by Rep. Cooper (D-Tenn.), it would extend the reciprocal Trade Act another three years and give the President authority to cut tariffs by five per cent a year. Eisenhower asked just that of the 83rd Congress, but didn't get it after some leading GOP members balked.

Democrats talked, too, of a thorough airing of their charges that the Eisenhower power program leans to the "vested interest." They made ready an investigation of the administration's security program, denounced by Sen. Johnston (D-SC) as "a numbers racket that misleads more than it informs."

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.), due to succeed Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) as the Senate's No. 1 investigator, said he would abolish one-man hearings. The 47-man staff of the House Un-American Activities Committee is in for a shake-up, Rep. Walter (R-Pa.) announced.

Ninety-three of the Senate's 96 members and 427 of the House membership of 435 gathered today to open what the Senate chaplain, the Rev. Frederick Brown Harris, described in the opening prayer as "a new volume of destiny in our nation's history."

Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the Democrat who succeeds Republican William Knowland of California as the majority leader, told the Senate there would be no bills introduced there until after Eisenhower delivers the State of the Union message tomorrow to a joint session of the Senate and House.

However, there was no bar to offering of new legislation in the House. One of the first proposed bills, by Rep. Celler (D-NY), would raise the pay of members of Congress to $25,000 a year from $15,000. (Continued on Page Fourteen)

Stocks Break Sharply, Due In Part To Increased Margin Requirements

NEW YORK, Jan. 5 (AP)—The bull market in stocks tumbled today under a massive wave of selling that knocked some prices down around 45.

What caused the break? Undoubtedly that question was asked across the nation tonight by the constantly increasing number of Americans now "in the market."

Was it the action of the Federal Reserve Board last night hiking the amount of cash an investor must put up when buying securities on margin?

Unquestionably that was the immediate psychological factor. However, some brokers were doubtful that the margin boost would have much effect on prices in the long run.

There is almost unanimous opinion in Wall Street that the market has been long overdue for a good-sized correction, having gone up steadily for nearly 16 months.

"It would be in the best interests of investors if the market would sell off about 10 per cent right now," commented a leading market analyst.

The wave of sell orders flashing in from brokerage houses all over the country mounted so quickly that the ticker ran as much as 15 minutes late in reporting transactions. Volume for the day totaled 4,640,000 shares, the biggest turnover since June 27, 1950, when the Korean War started.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dropped to $152.40, down $3.40, the biggest decline since June 26, 1950.

Many issues were off more than $1. Kennecott Copper dropped $4.50, Amstar Petroleum $5.50, General Motors $3.62, Du Pont $3.12, Westinghouse Electric $2.75, Chrysler $2.87 and Cleveland Electric Illuminating $3.25. The steels, recent market favorites, suffered.

Bethlehem went down $4.62, U. S. Steel $3.12 and Republic Steel $4.62.

The industrial component of the average was off $5.40, rails fell $2.60, and utilities were lower by 70 cents.

On Monday the average stood at the second highest level in its history, topped only by the all-time high of $157.70 on Sept. 3, 1929.

The market today was the broadest on record with 1,290 issues traded. Yesterday's market had set a new record high with 1,279 issues. There were only 147 gainers and 965 losers with 68 new highs for the year touched during the day and 4 new lows registered.

Volume stepped up to 4,640,000 shares. On June 27, 1950, it was 4,800,000.

The stock at the top of the most active list advanced—New York Central up $\frac{1}{2}$ at 33 $\frac{1}{2}$ on \$0.90 shares. It was followed by General Electric off $\frac{1}{2}$ at 48, Glenn Martin up $\frac{1}{2}$ at 24 $\frac{1}{2}$, Pennsylvania Railroad off $\frac{1}{4}$ at 22 $\frac{1}{2}$, and Libby, McNeill & Libby up $\frac{1}{4}$ at 14 $\frac{1}{2}$.

The American Stock Exchange was lower on volume of 1,420,000 shares as compared with 1,290,000 shares traded yesterday. The bond market was mixed. U. S. Government issues in the over the counter market were lower.

The Reserve Board, concerned about the sharp rise in stock prices, increased margin requirements from 50 per cent to 60 per cent. It was the first brake applied to the booming bull market since Jan. 17, 1951, when margin was boosted to 75 per cent. Fifty per cent margins had prevailed since Feb. 20, 1953.

Most observers agreed the action might prevent speculative excesses. "It's like giving the market a smack on the face and saying: 'This is for nothing, but just watch yourself,'" remarked a partner in one of the big brokerage houses.

What it means to the investor is this: If he wants to buy $1,000 worth of stock, he must now put up $600 instead of only $500. If the stock goes up, he's all right, but if it falls to around 50 per cent of the price when he bought it, he will start getting calls for more margin.

The action doesn't affect stocks already purchased on 50 per cent margin. It applies only to new purchases.

Hammaraskjold, Chou To Open Talks Today

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Jan. 5 (AP)—U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold will begin face-to-face talks tomorrow afternoon, Peiping time, with Red China's Chou Enlai about the release of 11 Americans airmen jailed as spies.

Hammarskjold ended a journey halfway around the world at 1:45 p.m. Peiping time today and within a short period had met the Red Chinese Premier and foreign minister socially for the first time.

The U. N. received here a short message from Hammarskjold's party giving the time of arrival and indicating that the secretary general will get down to business in a formal meeting with Chou tomorrow.

Hammarskjold flew to Peiping on his own initiative after the U. N. assembly approved 47-5 a resolution calling on him to use the full authority of his office in "unremitting efforts" to obtain the release of the 11 aviators and all other U. N. personnel still held by the Red Chinese from the Korean War.

Red China has called the 11 Americans espionage agents and on Thanksgiving Day announced they had been sentenced to prison.

The secretary general departed for Peiping with the blessings of U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., who is known here to have expressed full confidence in the secretary general on this mission. It was reported on Hammarskjold beyond those contained in the Assembly resolution directing him to seek the release of the men.

Hammarskjold has said he will confine his talks to the prisoners and has no authority to discuss U. N.

Mrs. Malone Walks Out On Neuberger Talk

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 (AP)—Oregon's new Democratic senator, Richard M. Neuberger, called tonight for an end to "character assassination" in American political campaigning.

And Mrs. George W. Malone, wife of the Republican senator from Nevada, walked out on Neuberger's speech, saying in tones clearly audible in the Statler Hotel's Presidential Room:

"I've had all I can take."

Neuberger shared a speaker's platform with Vice President Nixon, who has been accused by Democrats of unfair tactics in the 1954 campaign, and freshman Sen. Clifford Case (R-NJ) at the annual congressional dinner of the Women's National Press Club.

Strike Ties Up Perishable Foods

NEW YORK, Jan. 5 (AP)—A major log jam was building up in the fresh fruit and vegetable industry today as a strike of local haulers entered its fifth day.

The chairman of the State Mediation Board, Merlyn S. Pitzel, named a special three-man fact finding panel. It is to make non-binding recommendations for ending the strike, but is not expected to have its report ready for two or three days.

Already the strike has had repercussions as far as California and Florida.

Driver Dies When Truck Goes Over Bank And Burns

MOUNT POCONO—A truck plunged down an embankment and exploded into flaming wreckage yesterday. The driver was killed.

Monroe County's first traffic victim of the new year was Henry Walter Carpenter, 34, of 16 Coleman Creek Rd., Brockport, N. Y.

The wreck was on Route 611, south down the steep grade, about 12:30 p.m. After Mount Pocono Fire Co. volunteers had extinguished the flames officials found little left of the driver.

Deputy Coroner Dr. Perry Stearns listed the driver as having burned to death, but the physician said there was not enough left of the body to determine whether burns caused the death or whether the driver was killed instantly by the impact.

A number of other fatalities have occurred at the same place in recent years, with similar circumstances.

Troopers Homer Jones and James Horan of Mount Pocono said the truck was traveling south from Mount Pocono. Evidently the driver's head was snapped off, for it was later found about a mile uphill from the scene of the wreck.

The truck picked up speed as it went down the steep grade. Dr. Stearns said the driver apparently was waiting for his first chance to swerve off Route 611.

The fatal opportunity came as the truck neared Hawthorne Inn. There the new highway crosses old Route 611. Carpenter swerved off the new highway onto the old route. The two roads run parallel.

The truck careened up the old road, smashed through the wooden barrier which marks the end, then catapulted into space to come smashing down onto the new highway 30 feet below.

A passenger car was passing through the cut at that moment; it was on the east side of the highway. Its driver saw the tremendous tractor and trailer hurtling down the embankment. He stopped his auto just past the cut and ran back.

The tractor-trailer had exploded into flames and was burning fiercely. The driver remained trapped in the cab.

Dr. Stearns said the motorist who just missed being squashed beneath the falling transport was unknown. Witnesses related his story.

Dr. Stearns released the body to Dunkelberger and Westbrook funeral home in Stroudsburg. Transfer was later made to the Fowler funeral home in Brockport.

Carpenter was unmarried.

The truck and trailer lay across the highway for some time. Stroudsburg troopers were summoned to assist with traffic control. Cars could pass by skirting the wrecked vehicle.

The trailer was loaded with canned goods. The load came down squarely on the concrete divider. Crates of canned peaches were scattered about, and scores of other cans had fallen from smashed crates.

The highway department was notified to clean up the wreckage and restore free traffic flow. A scoop loader was brought from the George DeHaven garage in Scottdale to pick up the scattered crates.

Damages to the tractor-trailer were placed at $3,500. There was no estimate on the amount of loss to the canned goods.

Borough Stores To Stay Open Friday Nights

Retail merchants of Stroudsburg this week inaugurated their new schedule of shopping hours which calls for the stores to remain open Friday nights until 9 and to close Saturday nights at 6.

It has been a popular trend throughout the country to change from the late Saturday shopping hours, merchants said. The local merchants decided to make the change here after careful consideration.

The change is based on the belief that shoppers will find it more convenient to do their family buying on Friday and avoid the late Saturday rush.

Freezing Rain Ices Highways In Poconos

A FREEZING rain made it slippery going in the Mount Pocono, Pocono Lake and Lehigh areas last night but no accidents had been reported by State Police at a late hour.

No icy roads were reported in the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg section but sidewalks were dangerous in spots for walking.

State Police at Mount Pocono said traffic there was moving "cautiously" along the highways as the rain was freezing in the 29-degree temperature.

One State Highway Dept. truck was called out at 6:45 and three more joined the cinderling job at 8 p. m. as a total of 12 men were at work making the roads passable.

Quick cinderling work had the roads under control near Pocono Lake. The highway was said to be "icy in spots" at Lehigh. Roads were slippery early last night near Milford but were reported to be clearing up at 10:30 p. m.

Ladejinsky Given Land Reform Post

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 (AP)—Wolf Ladejinsky, fired by the Agriculture Department as a security risk, got a key job today with the Foreign Operations Administration. He will work on land reform in Viet Nam, helping to fight off Communist pressure there.

The appointment was announced by FOA chief Harold E. Stassen, it came after the White House intervened to end a controversy which broke out when Ladejinsky was removed Dec. 16 from his post as agricultural attaché in the U. S. Embassy at Tokyo.

Ladejinsky, Russian-born but now a naturalized American, had security clearance from the State Department, but when his post was shifted to the Agriculture Department by act of Congress last year Secretary of Agriculture Benson ruled that he could not be retained.

Benson acted on the advice of his security officer, John Glen Cassidy.

The security conflict between Agriculture and State brought demands for a congressional investigation, and in the end the White House stepped in.

Immediately after Stassen's announcement today, James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary, issued this statement:

"The White House asked the heads of departments and agencies involved to use their best judgment in working out this situation and we believe that judgment has been exercised."

Stratojets Collide

LAKE CHARLES, La., Jan. 5 (AP)—Two B47 Stratojet bombers collided over the Gulf of Mexico tonight, with one crashing about three miles offshore and a crewman parachuting from the other before it limped back to Lake Charles Air Force Base.

Stalin-Like Policy Rises In Russia

by WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

A purgee has just been depurged in Moscow. This is important news for the United States because it testifies to the growing power of Nikita Khrushchev, chief of the Communist party, and also to a belligerent Stalin-like Soviet foreign policy in the making. The indications of Khrushchev's rising fortunes amid hints in the Soviet press that two factions in the Soviet hierarchy are struggling for supremacy.

News has just reached this country that Soviet President Voroshilov, at a Kremlin ceremony New Year's Eve, decorated a group of generals including Col. Gen. I. V. Shokin. This general disappeared in 1949 after the death of Gen. Andrei Zhdanov, heir-apparent to Stalin. Many of Zhdanov's followers were purged after his death, including politburo member Nikolai Vosnesenski, and the way was cleared for the rise to power of Georgi Malenkov.

Shokin's public reappearance on the political scene came just a week after Moscow announced its execution of Col. Gen. V. S. Abakumov, former minister of state security, as a Beria plotter. Significantly, Abakumov was accused of skulduggery in a shadowy "Leningrad case." He was supposed to have used illegal police methods to force confessions there. Leningrad was Zhdanov's bailiwick.

Shokin's rehabilitation may not mean Premier Malenkov, oldtime foe of Zhdanov in the long struggle for Stalin's mantle, is in imminent danger. However, it does nothing to diminish the stature of party boss Khrushchev.

The current line of Soviet foreign policy sounds like the Stalin-Zhdanov policy of old. It also sounds like the Khrushchev approach as exemplified in his speech in Prague last September at the 10th Czech Communist party congress.

More and more Khrushchev seems to have been throwing his weight around. He has gone into central Asia and laid down the law to republic ministers on how to raise agricultural production; that trip cost at least one republic premier his job.

The Soviet press has been building up Khrushchev. New Times recalled his role as a comrade-in-arms of Stalin during the civil war which followed the Revolution. In those days, Malenkov was a teenager.

There has been a noticeable trend back to Stalinism in the Soviet press, along with unmistakable references to serious heresies and factionalism within the Communist party. Such statements are ominous in sound. Perhaps the "collective leadership" principle of committee government which followed Stalin's death is beginning to come apart at the seams.

THE CAREER BEGAN HERE—at Pocono Playhouse in Mountain home—for Gloria Vanderbilt Stokowski when she made her stage debut in Ferenc Molnar's "The Swan." The breakup of her marriage to symphony conductor Leopold Stokowski began at about the same time, her friends say now. The critics were kind to Gloria in her appearance at Pocono Playhouse. Last week Gloria announced she intended to pursue a career in the theater, notified reporters that she wished to be called by her maiden name from now on. She's shown here with Franchot Tone, her co-star in the New York City Center production of William Saroyan's "The Time of Your Life" and with whom her name has been linked romantically.

Stroudsburg Represented In Orchestra

FIVE STROUDSBURG High School students and their music instructor, Numa Snyder, leave this morning to attend the festival of the Northeast District Orchestra in Shamokin.

The festival is sponsored by the Pennsylvania Music Educators Association. It begins today and continues through Saturday, Snyder announced.

Students chosen to represent the local school at the orchestra meeting are Jeanne Schneider and Evelyn Parth, violins; Mary Beth Knapp, viola; Judy Cramer, drums and Michael Cohen, second oboe.

Personnel of the orchestra has been chosen by a special selection committee of music educators from Sunbury, Hazleton and Wilkes-Barre.

High schools represented at the meeting will be Wilkes-Barre, Scranton, Stroudsburg, Sunbury, Kingston, Troy, Sayre, Nanticoke, Wyoming, Honesdale, Montrose, Athens and Dalmatia.

The best of young musicians from that orchestra and other districts will be sent to the All-State orchestra festival in February. It will be held in Mount Union.

The climax of the Northeast District Festival will be a special concert by the 86-piece orchestra on Saturday, Prof. Russell C. Hatz, Susquehanna University Conservatory of Music faculty member, will be the guest conductor.

Things Are Looking Up

Pennsylvania has weathered its business and industrial slump, surveys of the Business Research Bureau of the Pennsylvania State University clearly indicate.

Never was a period of decline more spectacularly publicized. It was a campaign year, of course, both state-wide and on the national level, and political campaign oratory never has been noted for its reason, restraint and factual analysis.

It would be well then for all of us Pennsylvanians who were bombarded with charges and countercharges to back off right now for a look at where we have been and where we are going.

With its preponderance of coal and heavy industry, hardest hit of them all on the national economic scene, Pennsylvania has been staging a slow and steady recovery from the low point of last June, the university's index shows. The last available figures show that from last October to November the Keystone State's general business had chalked up a gain of 10 per cent while industrial activity was going up 1 per cent. This still leaves the over-all index of Pennsylvania's economy below that of the preceding year, but there were marked signs of continuing improvement, the university's research bureau reported, carrying over into the new year.

The darker side of our economic picture got such heavy emphasis all through the past year, we all should be cheered by the newest reports. We are heading into a new year on an upward swing, and not losing ground as we were just 12 months ago. The expression of "a happier and more prosperous New Year," which we all were circulating a few days ago, was no mere holiday salutation.

Pay Raises for Federals

Your No. 1 employee, the President, soon will ask Congress to raise the salaries of most of your other employees—the people who work for the Federal Government.

Mr. Eisenhower and his aides have worked out a plan to give pay boosts to the Civil Service employees, about a million of them. Also the President is working on a way to hike salaries for men in the armed forces.

All told, the cost of giving civilian and military people more money is estimated at $882 million. A fat sum.

To get some of the money, the President again will ask for increases in postal rates.

But that won't be nearly enough for the pay raises in prospect.

We don't know what you other taxpayers think about this, but our ideas run this way: Probably most of the Federal payrolls deserve higher pay. But we still think there are too many of them. And the house-cleaning the Eisenhower Administration undertook in the beginning isn't finished.

Postal rates should be raised anyway, because the Post Office isn't anywhere near paying its way.

Pay raises won't do anybody, including Federal workers, much good if the government keeps on running up big deficits, borrowing more money to run its business, growing deeper into debt and—as a result—stirring up another round of inflation. If Congress votes pay raises, it will do everybody a favor by first finding the money to meet them.

George Sokolsky Says...

Anti-Communism Must Not Be Corrupted By Indecent Attitude Or By Ignorance

The case of Wolf Ladejnsky concerns a public official once employed by the Department of Agriculture and subsequently by the Department of State. His most recent position was as chief of the Far Eastern Division of the Office of Foreign Agricultural Relations attached to our Embassy in Japan.

That office has now been transferred to the Department of Agriculture by Act of Congress, in which agency it will be the Foreign Agriculture Services.

The State Department is satisfied with Ladejnsky's services and praises him for his work. He has been screened by State for security purposes and has not been found unsatisfactory. The Department of Agriculture finds Ladejnsky inadequate and is not satisfied with his security clearances.

The Ladejnsky Case has been boomed up into a major political issue. The Department of Agriculture's case, as far as the public is concerned, rests on two indisputable facts:

1. He was once employed by the forerunner of Amtorg, a Russian trading agency which has also served as a cover for espionage.

2. He has some sisters still living in Russia.

The presentation of the case against Wolf Ladejnsky by the Department of Agriculture has, thus far, been amateurish and discredits the anti-Communist movement and the system of screening more than it harms Ladejnsky. If the Department of Agriculture cannot produce a better case, Ezra Taft Benson, who is, in my opinion, the ablest man in our Cabinet, ought to admit that he has been misinformed and he ought to apologize to Ladejnsky. If Mr. Benson has a better case, he ought to state it now.

In all the material I have read on subversives and Communists since 1917, I have never quite seen the equal of a statement by John Glen Cassidy, the Agriculture Department's security chief, which reads:

"Would you write articles critical of the Communist Government if close members of your family were living in Russia and you knew the tactics the Communists use?"

"It is doubtful anyone would do it unless he had reason to believe his family would not be harmed."

Does Mr. Cassidy know anything of human decency, of a faith that transcends personal interest? Does he know anything of the history of the Mormon Church, for instance? Ezra Taft Benson is a Mormon and he could tell Mr. Cassidy of the sacrifices, the suffering of the early Mormons who were driven by fanatical opposition from place to place until they reached the wilderness of the Salt Lake region. Did those men think of safety and body comfort any more than some of my ancestors did when they huddled themselves into the auto-cave rather than desert their God and their ideals? None of these men and women ever gave a thought to what their idealism might do to their relatives. Apparently Mr. Cassidy never heard of that.

I do not know whether Ladejnsky is an idealist, is competent to be our agricultural representative, or whether he has a worse record than has been disclosed. But when Mr. Milan D. Smith of the Department of Agriculture writes from a letter from George N. Vitt to establish the wickedness of Wolf Ladejnsky, it is necessary to inquire into the bona fides of Vitt as an expert. In the vast literature on Communism and anti-Communism, George N. Vitt's name does not appear as a qualified expert. There is no evidence in his letter to show expertise. It is said that he is a White Russian who fled from the Bolsheviks in 1919. His letter says:

"Mr. L. may be 100 percent innocent, but facts from his past speak against him. Thus, for the sake of Uncle Sam he must go, as unjust as it may be to him personally if he is innocent of Communist connections or sympathies."

What kind of vicious tripe is this? Are we to punish the innocent as well as the guilty? No matter what one thinks of Secretary Joe McCarthy, he never offered this as a test of subversion.

Anti-Communism is the most important cause before the American people today. This cause must not be corrupted by indecent attitudes, by ignorance, by self-serving vengeance. And it is the active anti-Communists who must take up the cudgels against such statements as those made by Cassidy and Vitt. If their efforts are not to be discredited, they must be able to answer the question: "What is the speed of light? Or a capacity for superionic flight?"

George Gobel, funniest man on the airwaves just now, looks like anything but a professional entertainer, especially a comedian. . . . Physically he is something between a vaudeville midget and a waiter in a rathskeller with a low roof. . . . He looks like your butcher boy, the Phi Beta Kappa student at the Barbers' College or the apprentice plumber. . . . The complete absence of "front," egotism and brassiness is his greatest asset, and he has become a top entertainer in less than a year because he is so different. . . . Gobel doesn't confuse humor with perspiration, he doesn't think a joke has to be delivered with a mallet and he doesn't chide the audience if a bad gag falls flat. . . . He is a hit because he is so likable, so mild mannered and so devoid of cockiness. . . . "Police Frown on Attempts to Sell Shotgun in Saloon"—headline. . . . Well, it's no way to promote a convivial mood. . . . James Michener was pretty terrific on "Youth Wants to Know." . . . The new autos are so low and producing so many bumps on human heads that it would seem the extra equipment might include a spare noggin. . . . A policeman fired a gun in a movie house where "Vera Cruz" was being shown, but compared to the shooting on the screen it was a peace gesture. . . . The last issue of "Life" was so full of food that a beggar stepped up to us and asked, "Can you spare a dime for a cup of coffee to eat with this copy?"

The Once Over

—by H. I. Phillips

Callousness Marches On. The question of the day seems to be "Can automobiles coexist?" All the people least fit to drive a car appear engaged in a nation-wide demonstration that they have mistaken an operator's license for an assignment in combat warfare.

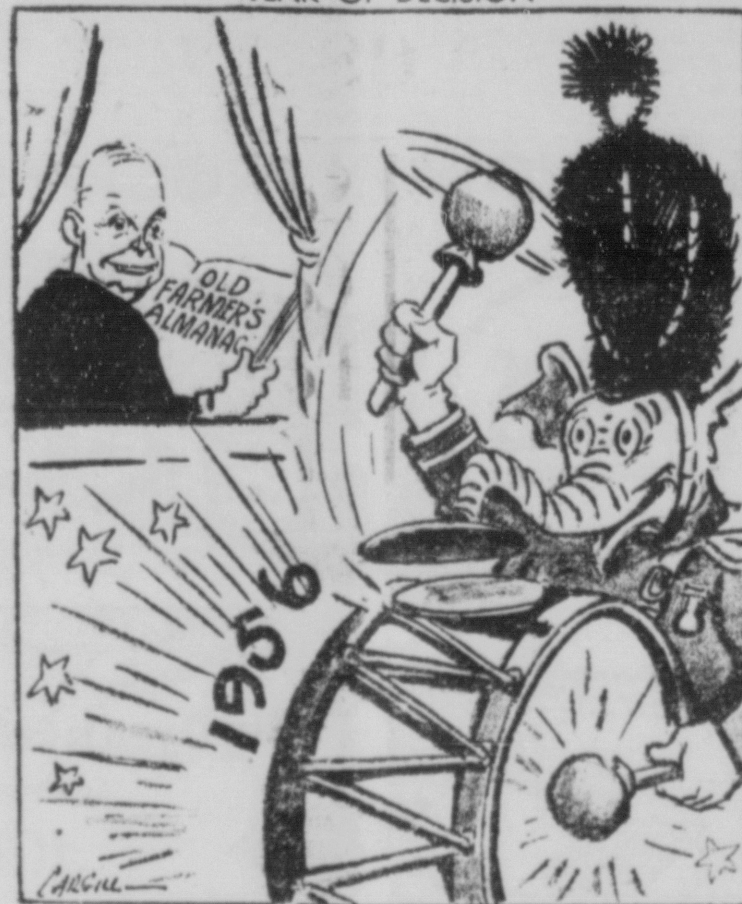

There were around 700 people killed and thousands injured in an all-time horror-record over the two holiday weekends, and at long last there are signs the general public is demanding that safety groups, courts, police, legislators and the auto industry get together to end a shameless example of idiots' delight on the open road.

Too many people use an auto as if it were a murder weapon with deluxe upholstery. Never have so many shown such few signs of intelligence. The James Boys, Billy the Kid and other bad men of the Old West had a greater respect for human life. The early colonist had little more to fear from an Indian ambush than the modern American has to fear from a weekend on the highway. It seems obvious that the motor car has come to be regarded as the means of getting between two given points with the minimum stupidity. It is time to cease outting so many stripes on the new automobiles and start putting more on careless drivers, say we. Men, women and children who would be a menace driving old-fashioned covered-wagons are freely licensed to operate the fastest and most powerful auto Detroit can produce. What is there about possession of an auto that can swiftly transform a decent, considerate citizen into a stinker, a pig and a potential killer? Why does a place behind the driver's wheel make a person leer at the golden rule, brush off all kindly instincts, harden his heart and efface all semblance of good manners?

Behold the modern autoists! He removes his hat in elevators, pats little children on the head, stands when ladies enter the room and feeds park pigeons. . . . but put him at the auto's wheel and he curses his fellow man, defies the traffic signs, and behaves like Public Enemy Number One. His conduct calls for some concerted action to end the screwball scene that makes "Murder Incorporated" seem like a Big Brother Club. From many quarters there now arises a demand that the automobile manufacturers assume some of the responsibility and pipe down on the glorification of high power and tremendous speed in a day when roads strewn with wrecked cars, corpses and maimed victims make less speech essential. Detroit is turning out the most comfortable and beautiful cars on earth. But must they

My America

Top Kicks Still Needed To See Guns Are Loaded

The Turks are fixing to get them some army officers designed to a new set of specifications.

For centuries they have been going on the assumption that the prime function of an army was to fight. Working on that theory they have turned out a lot of workmanlike soldiers.

Many an eminent military leader down through the years has testified that, pound for pound, the Turkish warrior was about as tough a customer as he'd care to meet in combat.

In view of the widespread esteem for its product you'd think the Turkish War School, the counterpart of our own Military Academy at West Point, would feel that it is doing all right.

But these Turks keep a close watch on things to be sure as possible that they always know exactly where they are at. And apparently they have taken note of the fact that their reputation for military prowess was developed in a day when nearly everybody took it for granted that a warrior's business was to win wars.

Some conflicting opinion on this point has cropped up in recent years.

Observing which way the wind now seems to be blowing the Turkish War School is going to revamp its training program to produce more of a diplomat-type army officer.

Henceforth, students learning how to be army officers at the school will devote more than half their time to courses in international relations, international law, economics, diplomatic history, social psychology and other non-military subjects. It's all part of a general program to modernize Turkey's armed forces along lines suggested by U. S. technical advisers.

Probably a mere layman has no license to say this isn't all right. We have to assume that the brass hats know what they need in their business. And no doubt it is true that a briefcase colonel needs a lot of parlor finery to handle himself well at international defense-force headquarters, peace conferences, legislative investigations and other places where so much of the fighting is done nowadays.

Broader knowledge of the social sciences and diplomatic etiquette also will help a field general understand better what he is doing in these bewildering days when so much of the grand strategy of war is whipped up by the politicians in front offices.

It would be very embarrassing for a nation to have an unpolished commander out there hammering the enemy with both fists when, under the accepted code of international decorum, he should have one hand behind his back, with phlegm extended. We must keep these activities couched, at all costs.

Just to be on the safe side, though, it might be wise to go on training a few top sergeants who will know where to insert the shells in a field gun, and which end the cobs come out.

Try and Stop Me

—by Bennet Cerf

It takes no great talent, is the timely reminder of Father John La Farge, "to spread suspicion, fear, and hate. The tools are always at hand, the audience ready, and a halo of holy zeal is always easily adjusted to any ambitious writer's brow. On the other hand, it is tough going when you are striving to build up the full strength, spiritual and temporal, of man according to the image of his Creator. It is hard to offer no panaceas, and to teach the patient conquering of one's personal and racial prejudices."

Father La Farge remains, however, a confirmed optimist. "It's too easy to become pessimistic like my friend, Mart Jones, in Maryland," he says. "I once remarked to Mart that the weather was beautiful. Poor Mart answered dolefully, 'I hate fine weather. Fine weather breeds bad weather!'"

A report has it that hush-hush experiments are about to result in a new, quick-freeze bandage. Intended, of course, to be just what the doctor ordered for cold cuts.

Robert S. Allen Reports

Citizens For Eisenhower May Be Taken Into GOP

Washington, January 6 — Vice President Richard Nixon has been giving friends an absorbing preview of the 1956 Republican line-up.

According to the Californian:

President Eisenhower will definitely run for a second term.

Nixon believes that he will again be the President's choice as running mate.

The President is intensely interested in building up new GOP leaders.

Nixon's major activities this year will be: (1) to create good-will abroad, and (2) to assist in bringing new party leaders to the fore.

The Vice President also indicated there have been inner discussions on integrating the Citizens for Eisenhower organization and its officials into regular Republican forces. He explained this is strongly favored by most party leaders in order to eliminate a "frequent source of friction and tension."

Nixon is stressing the President's desire for Republican unity, and the need for a broad-gauged viewpoint.

"The President is pretty well satisfied with the Administration's accomplishments in the first two years," Nixon told a luncheon group. But he feels that more must be done for the great mass of people to insure a wide campaign base in 1956. He wants a strong Republican party that is enthusiastically united behind a progressive moderate record and platform.

Foremost among the potential new national leaders being mentioned by Nixon are Deputy Defense Secretary Robert Anderson, Deputy Attorney General William Rogers, Wisconsin Governor Walter Kohler, Indiana Governor George Craig, and Governor Arthur Langlie, Washington State.

Note: The National Citizens for Eisenhower Committee, in its latest report filed with Congress, shows an unspent balance of around $100,000 left over from last fall's election.

Going Places—A significant decision is behind Nixon's plan to do considerable foreign traveling this year.

In inner White House councils it has been determined to shift the main emphasis of the Vice President's activities from the domestic to the foreign field, and to send him on several or more goodwill missions.

In addition to the already announced Caribbean tour, two others are under discussion.

One is to South America; the other would be a trip somewhat similar to Nixon's swing around the world in 1953, with the principal emphasis again on the Far East.

In all instances, the Californian will travel as the personal representative of President Eisenhower.

That's the inside word given Republican congressional leaders.

They have been told that a key factor behind this unannounced program is the explosive relations between Nixon and the Democrats over his aggressive campaigning last fall. He incensed them.

Led by Speaker Sam Rayburn, Tex., Democrat legislative chiefs are making no bones of their intention to retaliate against Nixon. Several have gone so far as to serve notice they will "refuse to sit in the same conference room with him."

Senator James Murray, Mont., chairman of the Interior Committee and a senior member of the Labor and Public Welfare Committee, both of which will handle some of the most important of the President's domestic measures, is seeking special time to make a speech in the Senate, "on a point of personal privilege," to denounce Nixon. The latter made a series of militant speeches for Murray's unsuccessful Republican opponent.

Murray and other Democratic senators angrily accuse Nixon of "sneaky tactics," and are planning to berate him on the Senate floor.

Republican leaders have been advised that because of this feud the White House prefers that the Vice President devote his principal efforts to certain foreign spheres where his position and experience would be of special value. Secretary of State Dulles particularly has urged that.

He favors the South American tour on the ground Nixon could do much to dissipate irritations that resulted from the recent economic conference in Brazil. Similarly, Dulles feels that a visit by Nixon could help strengthen the new Southeast Asia defense alliance.

Note: Nixon's close friends say he is not perturbed by Governor Goodwin Knight's avowed intention to seek a 1956 California delegation pledged wholly to himself.

Stroudsburg Council Approves Of Off-Street Parking Study

Feasibility Report To Be Made By Hess

STROUDSBURG Council last night authorized Engineer Edward C. Hess to develop a feasibility report on off-street parking and make as prompt a report as possible.

The feasibility report will determine what steps council will take to develop off-street parking in the borough during 1955.

This action follows a report by a special committee of Stroudsburg Businessmen's Assn., which cited experience ratings of several boroughs with off-street parking. This report showed use of both the regular Municipal Authority and the Parking Authority.

Mr. Hess already has a considerable amount of data accumulated during council's earlier exploration of the off-street parking issue.

Borough financial reports indicated Stroudsburg closed the year 1954 with a balance of approximately $15,000.

Gasoline and oil business was allotted to Charles Gordon, South Stroudsburg; Snaitman's 5th & Main service station; Gulf station at Seventh and Main with the fire truck and gas business going to Henry Ruster, 5th St.

Russell C. Hughes was re-named to the Stroudsburg Municipal Authority for a period of five years.

A vacancy on the Board of Health created by expiration of the term of Raymond Frantz was left vacant until next meeting of council when recommendations for the post will be received.

Mr. Frantz, who had served ably as a member and president, declined reappointment.

A letter from Jasper Heckman regarding street lines and their effect on his connecting on the new sewer lines on Stottlet St. was read. His son, Gerald Heckman, supplemented the letter with inquiry as to the legality of the street lines.

Gerald Heckman was advised a 1906 ordinance governs the street lines. Borough Solicitor George T. Robinson was authorized to answer Mr. Heckman's letter.

Council directed bids be sought for painting interior of the municipal building, both first and second floors.

The council will meet again Jan. 19 to begin work on the 1955 budget.

Stolen Car Is Recovered

A CAR STOLEN in Stroudsburg Sunday morning has been recovered in Raubsville, Pa., some 40 miles distant, borough police said yesterday.

Police Chief James F. McConnell said the car was owned by Harry S. Wunderly, Summit, N. J., former Shawnee resident, who was in the county to visit his daughter, Mrs. Warren Bond, 26 Morning-side Ave., on Saturday.

Sunday morning, Wunderly left his car outside with the keys in the ignition.

Yesterday State police from the Quakertown barracks contacted Stroudsburg police to report the car abandoned in Raubsville. Evidently it was taken by a hitchhiker, McConnell said. The car was undamaged.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 (AP)—A former undercover Communist from Allentown, Pa., testified today that on numerous occasions he and other Communists were asked by their party leaders to join the Civil Rights Congress.

Breakdown Delays Paper Deliveries

Deliveries of The Daily Record were delayed yesterday by a mechanical breakdown in the stereotype room which prevented the newspaper from going to press at the usual time.

It took several hours for workmen to make repairs, so that the majority of paperboys were unable to deliver the paper before they were due in school. Mail subscribers in most cases will get yesterday's edition along with today's.

Fire Levels Buildings; Women Saved

CARBONDALE — Jan. 5 (AP)—This city's second general alarm fire in two weeks early today destroyed two business buildings causing damage estimated at more than $100,000.

Two women living in a second floor apartment were rescued by firemen when they were trapped by the flames.

Fire Chief Joseph Healey said the fire apparently started in the apartment occupied by Mrs. Gladys White, 45, and her mother, Mrs. Harriet Flyte, 82. The fire spread through shops below and to the second building.

Firemen raised a ladder to the apartment window and carried the women to safety uninjured.

Firemen ran hose lines to roof-tops of nearby buildings and to the second floor of the First National Bank to fight the flames.

On Dec. 22 a newly organized plant, the Never Warp Dore Corp. was destroyed in a fire which also threatened a row of frame houses and two other industrial plants.

Penn State Club Group To Meet

School Heads Confer With Federal Aide

A GROUP of Monroe County educators met with a Federal official yesterday at Barrett school to discuss government aid to districts educating children of Signal Depot employees.

Donald Hart, a representative of the Department of Health, Welfare and Education, outlined the procedure for making applications for aid. DeHart told principals the appropriations were virtually assured if their districts could show cause for it.

Most of the schools directly affected by the influx of new families are those centered in the Tobyhanna region. This includes Coolbaugh Township, where the Signal Depot is located; Tobyhanna Township and nearby Paradise and Barrett.

The discussion at yesterday's meeting was of a general nature, a spokesman for the educators said last night.

Those attending the meeting were Willis Dunlap, Tobyhanna Township; Carl T. Secor, East Stroudsburg; Walter H. Sebring, assistant county superintendent; Harry Young, Polk; George Webb, Barrett; Lawrence Wile, Pocono; Leland Cramer, Newfoundland (Greene-Dreher); Warren Nonne-maker, Coolbaugh; and Earl F. Groner, Stroudsburg.

Meter Revenue In Borough Reaches Record $45,326; Two Reasons Cited For Rise

STROUDSBURG TOOK in $45,326.10 from parking meters in 1954. This was $2,326.10 more than the $43,000 set up in the 1954 budget.

It was also a whopping $11,349.66 higher than 1953's $34,976.44.

The report, prepared by borough secretary Harold E. Snyder, showed that parking revenues have increased more than $18,000 over 1951.

Wives Drop Charges Of Assault

TWO ASSAULT and battery charges involving area residents were dropped yesterday in the office of Justice of the Peace Herbert G. Bonser.

Mrs. Mary Koren, of 27 Dreher Ave., Stroud Township, withdrew the charge against her husband Henry.

Charges of assault and battery and breach of the peace were dismissed against Chester A. Ogrodski, 39, of 39 Fulton St., East Stroudsburg by mutual agreement between him and his wife Isabelle. The latter had made the charges Monday.

Michaels Funeral Rites Conducted

SERVICES for Mrs. Anna L. Michaels, 89, East Stroudsburg RD 1, were held Wednesday at Lantierman funeral home, East Stroudsburg, with Rev. William F. Wunder officiating.

Fire Losses During Year Total $27,615

FIRE threatened East Stroudsburg property worth $298,900 in 61 alarms last year.

Chief Marvin Abel has advised Borough Council the estimated value of buildings involved was $241,300; contents were worth $56,600.

But through fire company action, loss was held to $17,600 on the buildings and $10,015 for contents—a total of $27,615.

Volunteers answered 58 alarms within the borough and three outside. Alarms came mostly between noon and 6 p. m.—29 alarms. Other alarms were: midnight to 6 a. m., five; 6 a. m. to noon, 12; 6 p. m. to midnight, 15.

Classification of fires: 20 dwellings, 20 grass fires, four false alarms, three each, garages and short circuits; two each, commercial buildings, autos on highways, air raids, wind and storm.

Probable causes of the fires were described by Abel as: one auto ignition; 16, carelessness; five, railroad; 19, defective chimneys and heating plants; unknown, seven; five, overloaded circuits; two, storms.

To handle blazes, a total of 248 pieces of equipment dolled during the year. Seven major pumping services were needed; 34 booster services; 14 alarms where no service was needed.

A total of 16,250 feet of 2½ inch hose was laid; 3,400 feet of 1½ inch hose; and 67,50 feet of 1-inch red line.

A total 2,289 men responded to the alarms; raised 540 feet of ladder; spent a total of 49.5 hours of actual fire fighting, an average of 48 minutes per fire; and averaged 38 volunteers per fire.

This added up to a grand total of 1,881 man hours of fire fighting.

No Traffic Fatalities Occur In East Stroudsburg In 1954

EAST STROUDSBURG police closed out the year without any traffic fatalities to mar the borough's record.

That was the report last night as a yearly summation of police activity was made to borough council by burgess Jesse S. Flory.

Motor violations totaled 258, compared with 402 violations of the penal code.

Of that total 660 arrests during the year, the greatest number was for speeding—94.

Next in numbers were: being drunk and disorderly, 77; passing stop signs, 56; and disorderly conduct, 50.

Other arrests during the year were for: driving too fast for conditions 35; reckless driving 15; passing red lights 15; driving while intoxicated, eight; no operator's license, seven; overtime parking, six; for each for illegal registration plates, and turning in false fire alarms; three each for having no inspection sticker, illegal parking, and driving while license was under suspension; two each for improper passing, leaving an accident scene, illegal brakes, illegal muffler, failure to yield right of way, burglary, larceny, assault and battery, and conspiracy.

One Hundred Area Students To Attend State Farm Show In Harrisburg Next Week

A DELEGATION OF 100 or more students from the Pocono Mountains-State Belt area is slated to attend the State Farm Show in Harrisburg.

Most of the students will leave this area on Wednesday, Jan. 12. They will arrive in Harrisburg in time for the Future Farmers of America annual conference.

Two schools in the area will be among those presenting demonstrations and window exhibits during the show. They are the FFA group at Stroudsburg High School and the Future Homemakers group of Polk High School.

Title of the Stroudsburg FFA demonstration will be "Don't Learn Safety by Accident." The students are supervised by Albert Cross, their vocational agriculture instructor.

Polk homemaker students will present a window exhibit of examples in the field of Swedish weaving, all done by the students, under the general title "Create and Make." Their teacher is Mrs. Marian Mackes.

Area vocational homemaker adviser Miriam R. Lark is planning to leave for Harrisburg this Friday. Miss Lark takes with her the entire group of entries and exhibits prepared by students in home economics classes in the area.

Vocational Agriculture Supervisor Wilmer B. Frisbie will leave from Stroudsburg Saturday morning. All schools in the area plan to send students to the Farm Show next week, the advisers said last night.

Cattle Prices At High Level

CHICAGO, Jan. 5 (AP)—Prime cattle brought the highest price in nearly two years at the Union Stock Yards today.

In a strong to $1 a hundred pounds higher market, three loads of high prime steers sold at $34 and $34.25 a hundred pounds. That was the best price for steers since February, 1953, when $34.50 was paid.

Choice cattle sold for $16.00 to $29.00.

1,410 Deeds Recorded In County In '54

REAL ESTATE changed hands in Monroe County at about the same rate in 1954 as during previous years.

A total of 1,410 property deeds were recorded during the year by register and recorder Floyd Butz. This was higher than 1953's total of 1,253; and lower than 1952's total of 1,550.

High month for recording of deeds was August, when 148 were processed. Slowest month was January with 72.

This was the way the deeds came in during the year: January 72; February 77; March 100; April 111; May 145; June 106; July 142; August 148; September 138; October 130; November 111; December 130.

A grand total of 2,884 papers were processed throughout the year—including deeds.

Of the total, 854 were mortgages and 620 were miscellaneous papers like right-of-way, bonds, agreements, releases, quitclaims, articles of incorporation.

The year was marked by the highest office income in history during the month of October. A total of $2,119.75 was taken in, Butz said. Highest month the previous year brought in something over $1,600, Butz recalled.

December, usually a slow month in the recorder's office, did all right last year.

Butz should have no trouble remembering the amount; the final monthly figure for 1954 was $1,954.

Non-Support Cases Top Court List

NON-SUPPORT cases were the offenses dealt with most often in county court during 1954.

Of the county's even 100 cases for the year, 19 involved failure to support some family member—usually the wife. Eleven of these were disposed of by court orders for support. Eight more are still pending.

Burglary, one of the most serious crimes reckoned with, ran a close second to non-support in number. Nearly all of the 16 burglary charges resulted in guilty pleas. Two cases are pending.

Guilty pleas also followed most of the 14 drunken driving charges. Two cases are pending.

Four times during the year men were brought to court on charges of involuntary manslaughter. In each case the grand jury refused to indict and the men were freed. The grand jury also threw out a charge of fraudulent conversion; aiding and abetting a jailbreak; two charges of blackmail; and a charge of perjury.

There were four cases of burglary of railroad cars; three of turning in false fire alarms; two each for jailbreak, aggravated assault and battery.

Eight people appealed from summary convictions for speeding; two of the appeals were turned down and the rest are pending. Also pending is an appeal from a summary conviction for reckless driving.

There were five cases of driving while operator's license was under suspension; and five of failing to stop at an accident scene, of which one is pending.

There was one case each of sodomy, rape, forgery, permitting minors to frequent a place where liquor is sold, selling liquor to a minor, car theft, obstructing the sheriff in the serving of a legal process, statutory rape, malicious mischief, arson, assault, driving while license was revoked, and F and B, which was not processed.

Clyde Beatty Sells Circus To Concello

PALMETTO, Fla., Jan. 5 (AP)—Sale of controlling interest in the Clyde Beatty Circus to Arthur M. Concello, former star performer and circus manager, was announced today.

The deal was closed in nearby Sarasota, Roland Butler, long-time circus press agent, announced from his home here.

Concello, for several years a general manager of the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus, will have charge of operating and managing the show and Beatty will be the star performer, Butler said.

"They will open the season on the Pacific Coast in mid-March and later will tour the entire country," he added. Beatty starred with the Ringling Circus for several years and later operated his own wild animal circus, which today is one of only two railroad shows still active in the nation.

Amount of money involved in the transaction was not disclosed.

High Court Asked To Rule On State Law Permitting Arbitration Of Civil Actions

By LEE LINDER

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 5 (AP)—The constitutionality of a state law designed to speed up civil cases involving less than $1,000 was challenged today before Pennsylvania's Supreme Court.

Six of the seven justices—John C. Arnold was absent because of illness—were seated as Atty. Robert Ruppert of Lancaster argued that "no man can be compelled to forego his right (to a jury trial) and submit his cause to an informal tribunal or any tribunal other than a duly constituted court of law."

Ruppert insisted that such a procedure "sanctions the sale of justice and denies due process of law" and is unconstitutional.

The appeal reached the state's highest tribunal after Harvey A. Smith of Lancaster failed in his effort to get a jury trial in Lancaster County Common Pleas Court in connection with his claim for $249.19 damages against Myrtle F. Neff as a result of a 1953 automobile accident.

The 1951 arbitration law, amending a law dating back more than 100 years, authorized common pleas courts to adopt rules permitting arbitration of civil actions involving less than $1,000.

Lancaster County was one of 31 counties which adopted such a rule. In Lancaster County it provided for arbitration in actions involving less than $500. In such matters three lawyers chosen alphabetically, would hear the case. Each would be paid $25 by the county—or more if ordered by the court in special instances.

Appeals could be taken to the Common Pleas Court but appellants first would have to repay the county the cost of the arbitrators' fees, which would not be recovered if the appeal was successful.

Ruppert based a major portion of his argument on the excessive nature of this appeal fee, charged that this amount of money ($75) would serve to cause poor people to stop short of appeal.

The justices peppered Ruppert with questions, demanding to know exactly how a person was being deprived of his constitutional rights.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Keenhold, who spent a week with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Cloud Keenhold and son, have returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Werkheiser spent several days at Wilmington, Del. with their brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fischer and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Llewellyn Kresge, of Bear Creek; Mrs. Myra D. Fort, of Harrisburg; Howard Telles, of Bethlehem and his wife, the former Helen Dorshimer who is convalescing at the home of Mrs. A. T. Blakeslee Sr., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Miller.

William Anthony received a picture of his brother-in-law, James Suddon, who is in Florida with his nephew, after catching a sailfish which was almost as long as Mr. Suddon is tall.

Jr. Women Question Psychiatrist

Today's parents need to plan the time they spend with their children in contrast to earlier days when a girl naturally identified herself with her mother in the work around the home, when the boy worked with his father, or at least knew what he did and under what conditions. Dr. Charles Morris, psychiatrist at the Monroe-Northampton Child Guidance Center, told the Junior Woman's Club at their meeting on Tuesday night.

Children today have less opportunity to learn to know their parents, he said, to find out what kind of people they are. It is not a new problem, he pointed out, quoting Socrates who admonished the people of Athens that they spent too much time scraping together a fortune and too little for the children to whom they must relinquish it.

The changing teachings of psychology in the past generation also confuse parents, he said, ranging from the "leave them alone, rigid schedule" school to the present recognition of individual differences. Emotional problems are often set up for children who fail to live up to the goals set for them by their parents. It is not the goal, itself, but the attitude of the parents that causes difficulty. A child who feels rejected or unloved because he doesn't measure up to certain patterns has a problem.

It is these problems which the Child Guidance Center attempts to deal with working with both the parent and the child. This year 220 children have been treated at the clinic, he said, with 30 per cent of that number from Monroe County.

Dr. Morris answered an avalanche of questions which followed his talk.

The meeting itself was very well attended. A group of 44 new members were formally initiated in a candlelight ceremony.

Wallace Hornbrook, who is associated with Waring Enterprises, presented a group of piano solos.

Tea and a social time followed the program.

New members initiated included: Mrs. Harry Andrew, Mrs. Harry Armitage, Mrs. Ralph Barnes Jr., Mrs. William Barton, Mrs. Arthur Bomberger, Mrs. J. Thomas Campbell, Mrs. John Coogan, Mrs. Howard Coslet, Mrs. William Curnow, Mrs. Earl Deik, Mrs. George Diamandis, Miss Emily Eberts, Mrs. Paul Edinger Jr., Mrs. Arving Effross, Mrs. Richard Hagmayer, Mrs. Paul Halastra, Mrs. Richard Hammond, Mrs. C. Roy Hughes, Mrs. Richard James, Miss Jane Kennedy, Mrs. Wilson Kneebone, Mrs. George Litts, Mrs. Richard Miller, Mrs. Warren Nissen, Mrs. James Outlaw, Mrs. Alden Rauchenberger, Mrs. William Reaser, Miss Doris Salathe, Mrs. Lewis Scheller, Mrs. Robert Hively, Mrs. Richard Shook, Miss Emma Jane Shupp, Mrs. Gerald Snyder, Mrs. Irving Sommer, Mrs. Perry Stearns, Mrs. George Straka, Mrs. Earl Warner, Mrs. Fred Whitman, Mrs. James Wilson, Mrs. Robert Wilson, Mrs. Betty Ann Woolever, Mrs. Peter Wyckoff, Mrs. Walter Wyckoff and Mrs. Gilbert Zager.

Assisting in the initiation ceremony were Mrs. Elwood German, Mrs. Charles McMahon, Mrs. William Bolcar, Mrs. Jean Snyder and Miss Dolores Dellaria. During the business meeting, Mrs. John Regan reported on the successful Christmas dance. The members made a contribution to the Penny Art Fund of the federation.

Mrs. Joseph Small and Mrs. Joseph Yutz were co-chairmen of the hostess committee.

John Neipert Again Supt. Of Mission S. S.

The January meeting of the teachers and officers of the Fifth Street Presbyterian Mission was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pooley on Monday night, Jan. 3. The meeting was opened in prayer by the superintendent, John Neipert, who later dismissed all the Christmas program and Christmas dinner committees with a vote of thanks.

The primary purpose of the meeting was to elect officers for the new year. The following persons were re-elected to office: John Neipert, superintendent; Mrs. Nora Bradshaw, secretary; Mrs. Lois Barry, treasurer; Miss Dorothy Neipert was elected secretary in charge of attendance.

Several committees were appointed and various business matters were discussed, after which refreshments were served by Mrs. Herbert Pooley, Mrs. Nora Bradshaw and Mrs. James Marsh to the following: Mr. and Mrs. John Neipert; Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Lake; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pooley; Mrs. Nora Bradshaw; Mrs. James Marsh; Misses Mildred Kintner and Eunice Reaser; Mrs. Lois Barry and James Bradshaw.

Bless The Baker

Keflavik Airport, Iceland—It takes 180 yards of dough to feed the military and U. S. civilians here. The job of baking 2,160 loaves of bread each day requires 1,650 pounds of flour and 20 pounds of yeast among other things.

Mrs. Ray Heawey

(Kermit Pysher)

Miss Hopper Is Bride Of Ray Heawey

Bangor—Miss Marian Hopper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hopper, of 527 Fairview Ave., Bangor, became the bride of Ray Heawey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Heawey, Mount Bethel, on New Year's Day at 2 o'clock at the Plainfield Church by Rev. Klink, of Wind Gap.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress of baby blue faille with a corsage of red roses. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Shirley Frutche, of Mount Bethel R.D. 1, whose dress was the same style as the bride's in aqua. She wore yellow roses.

Blaine Frutche served as best man.

After a reception at the Mount Bethel Firehall, Mr. and Mrs. Heawey left for a wedding trip to New York City. They are both graduates of Bangor High School. The bride is secretary at Buzzard Electric Co., Inc. and the bridegroom is farming at the Floyd Mensch farm.

Sunshine Class Lists Gifts To Methodist Ch.

The Sunshine Class of the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church at their meeting on Tuesday night heard reports of their Christmas activities. The class gave $385 to the White Gift Service and also contributed a poinsettia for Christmas decorations.

Mrs. Beulah Brown gave a reading on "Life" and Miss Christine Christensen on "At Three Score 8 and 10."

Mrs. Vernon Garis presided at the business meeting. Plans were made for a covered dish supper in February. After the meeting refreshments were served at a table decorated with a winter scene by the hostesses, Mrs. Isabel Leedom gave the invocation.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

If the husbands of the Junior Women had to do an extra hour or so of baby sitting on Tuesday night it was no wonder, because they really got involved in the discussion with Dr. Morris on child psychology.

They like to be informed on international affairs, they take a more than polite interest in art, drama or literature, but if you want to see them really sit up and take notice just mention children.

The AAUW year book lists degrees and colleges of its members; the DAR lists ancestors; the Junior Woman's Club lists first names and telephone numbers but I think it would be interesting to list the children and their ages.

Anyway, they took Dr. Morris to their hearts and if it hadn't been for the music program still to come, they'd probably be there yet. From the problems they're having with their youngsters life should be anything but dull around these parts the next few years.

Wallace Hornbrook's music sort of calmed them down, though, to the point where they could eat their refreshments without talking with their mouths full. There's another man-in-the-news who turned out to be much younger than I'd expected.

One maybe I'm the one who's getting older when everybody else looks young to have accomplished so much.

Miss Clifton Married In Philadelphia

Mount Pocono—Miss Gloria Ann Clifton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James S. K. Clifton, of 4124 Gilham St., Philadelphia, was married on December 28 at St. Timothy's Roman Catholic Church to J. V. Dozier, son of Mrs. J. V. Dozier and the late Mr. Dozier, of Edinburg, Texas.

The bride is very well known in the Mount Pocono area where she has spent the summer months for many years with her aunt, Miss Elizabeth Schrufer. Miss Schrufer was among the guests attending the wedding as were Mrs. Julia Parth and daughters, Patricia and Evelyn.

Elizabeth Dangel, of Norristown, a college classmate of the bride, was maid of honor. Michael J. Rellity, of Philadelphia, a cousin of the bride served as best man. The ushers were also cousins of the bride, Vincent D. Volz and Michael J. Volz.

The bride wore a gown of white satin and her bouquet was of white orchids and red roses. The bridesmaid wore a winter green velvet with a bouquet of red roses. The church was decorated with red poinsettias and Christmas greens.

A dinner for the family at Smiley's was followed by a reception at the bride's home.

Mr. and Mrs. Dozier are motoring to Edinburg, visiting historic spots en route. The bride teaches school in Marathon, Texas, and the bridegroom is industrial instructor at Lincoln High School in Edinburg, Texas.

Outdoor Crafts For GS Leaders At Meeting Today

The Girl Scout Leaders Association will meet tonight at 8 at the Temple Israel vestry rooms, East Brown St.

Their training session will be devoted to "Arts and Crafts for the Out-of-Doors." They will learn to make "sit-upons," first aid kits and will do some whittling. Each leader is asked to bring a pocket knife and her ditty bag.

Second Graders See Themselves In Moving Picture

The children of Mrs. Laura Thomas' second grade at the Mores school had a chance to relive their Christmas play experience yesterday when one of the parents showed colored moving pictures he had taken of their Christmas play.

William Clark had taken moving pictures of the play "The Cobbler's Story," with the elves and fairies and other characters in full costume with color and motion adding reality. Yesterday he showed the movies to the class.

Firemen, Aux. Meet Tonight At Tannersville

Tannersville—There will be a joint meeting of the men of the Pocono Township Fire Company and the women of the Fire Company Auxiliary tonight at 8 at the firehall. A large attendance is expected from both groups.

The matter of a kitchen for the firehall will be discussed at this time. Refreshments and a social hour will follow.

Sisterhood Sets Up Busy Winter Schedule

A busy schedule for the Sisterhood of the Temple Israel was presented at the meeting on Tuesday night in the vestry rooms at the Temple Israel. On January 19, they will present Cornelia Stabler in a series of monologues; on February 11 a bake sale will be held at Wyckoff's with Mrs. Victor Taylor and Mrs. Al Goldstein as co-chairmen.

Kurt Wimer will be the speaker at the February meeting. Refreshments and a social time were featured after the meeting with Mrs. William Flervorke, Mrs. David Hecht, Mrs. Max Elsen, and Mrs. Leon Felsilver as hostesses.

LaSalle Coach Puts Big 'If' In Kentucky Court Rating

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 5 (AP)—Coach Ken Loeffler of La Salle's defending NCAA basketball champions is ready to rate Kentucky's unbeaten Wildcats as the best outfit in the country—provided "they beat some good teams away from home."

Loeffler's Explorers (9-3) lost to Kentucky at Lexington last month in the finals of the Wildcats tournament and Loeffler says the loss was expected.

"I'd say the ratings of Kentucky, Duquesne and us are about right," he continued. "But I think Kentucky can win a clear claim to being the best by taking some tough ones on the road."

He cited that Duquesne "won a tough one on the road by beating us" and then added "we won nine out of 12 on the road which is pretty good."

"It could be," he continued. "If Kentucky played Niagara, Loyola of New Orleans, Duquesne and a couple others on the road they might drop a couple too."

"But, I still think they must be ranked the best," he admitted.

Harmon Rolls 289 Game In Commercial 'B' League Match

JIM HARMON JR., former East Stroudsburg High School basketball star, just missed rolling a perfect 300 game on alleys one and two at Harmon's Recreation last night.

Harmon rolled a 289 score in the final game of the night after hitting a 167 and 202 for a match total of 658 pins. Despite Harmon's fine showing Eagles "B" dropped three points to Stroudsburg Auto Body in a Commercial "B" League match.

A split in the first game, 10 straight strikes and a balky seven pin on the last ball combined to give Harmon his 289 score, highest in four years at Harmon's Recreation.

Al Andress rolled a 297 single and 693 match at the Recreation four years ago and oddly enough this outstanding display also took place on alleys one and two.

Jim Harmon Sr., manager of Harmon's Recreation, and Calvin Counterman, secretary of the Monroe County Bowling Association, announced last night during the course of the bowling action that they will enter a tournament in Binghamton, N. Y., next month.

Counterman and Harmon will roll in the second annual Southern Tier Men's Singles Handicap Tournament, which features a first prize of $1,000.

The two Monroe County men will roll in the tournament at the West Side Bowling Center on Sunday, February 27.

This tournament was registered an extra week in which to register its huge field by the American Bowling Congress. Some of the top bowlers in the United States will take part in the tournament.

Pocono Junior High Shades Eastburg, 35-27

First Half Play Decides Cage Issue

TANNERSVILLE—Pocono Junior High School scored a 35-27 basketball decision over East Stroudsburg Junior High here on the winning team's home court yesterday afternoon. It was the opening game of the season for both squads.

Pocono took a commanding lead in the first period and outscored the opposition all the way except for the last quarter.

Paul Frailey and Larry Starnier led Pocono into an 11-3 advantage at the end of the first period and into a 21-10 lead at the halfway mark. Pocono had the better of the going in the second half, 10-7.

Evans Reese, tall East Stroudsburg forward, led his mates in a second half comeback, but the rally wasn't nearly strong enough to turn the tide of battle.

Pocono held a slim 8-6 edge in the third period, but the Cavaliers fought back to hold an 11-6 edge in the final six minutes of play.

Frailey and Starnier led the Pocono attack with 14 and 12 tallies respectively, while Reese was the number one point producer for Eastburg with 12.

Pocono made good on three of 11 foul shots, while East Stroudsburg found the range on three of 10 free throws. The winning club held a 16-12 edge in the field goal department.

Veterans Lead State Squad

STATE COLLEGE, Jan. 5 — A veteran triumvirate composed of Captain Bob Homan, Joe Krufka and Bill Oberly will spearhead Penn State's drive for title recognition in the 1955 wrestling arena. The Lions open the new campaign against Cornell at Ithaca, Saturday.

Homan, the Wantagh, N. Y., youth who'll move up a weight to 130 pounds, owns one Eastern title and will go after another in the heavier weight, Krufka, Plymouth 177-pounder, and Oberly, Ashbury, N. J., heavyweight, both will be bidding for their first titles.

Major losses from a year ago are Dick Lemyre and Jerry Maurey, both Eastern titlists, Doug Frey and Bill Krebs. The graduation of Lemyre, Maurey and Frey leaves the squad without at least one member from these families for the first time in six years.

Leading sophomore prospects are Sid Noddland, of Wantagh, N. Y., and George Smith, of State College, 123 pounds; John Pope, of Plainfield, N. J., 137 pounds; Dave Adams, of Bellefonte, 147 pounds; and Bill Thomas, of Tyrone, 157 pounds. Foremost newcomer is Bob Snyder, of Bellmore, L. I., who is favored to win the 167-pound assignment.

Hold-overs who are expected to make a strong bid for first team consideration are Hal Byers, of State College, 130 pounds; Larry Farnicola, of Bellefonte, 137 pounds; Walter Hough, of Lansdowne 147 pounds; and Bill Shawley, of State College, 157 pounds.

Robinson KO's Rindone In Sixth Round

By JOE FALLS
DETROIT, Jan. 5 (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, rusty and cautious for five rounds, flashed his bid lightning-like form and knocked out Rindone in the sixth round tonight to successfully launch his comeback before a roaring crowd in Olympia Stadium.

Stung into action when Rindone landed a left and right to the head, Robinson tore after the 28-year-old Bostonian and connected with a series of round-house blows to the head.

A right sent Rindone to the canvass, head down and hurt. He slowly climbed up, as though a 500-pound safe was on his burly shoulders, but it was too late.

Referee Johnny Weber reached the count of 10 and signaled that Sugar Ray was the winner in his first fight since June, 1952—a period of 30 months.

It was an explosive win for the dapper New Yorker, who is seeking to regain the middleweight championship from titleholder Carl "Boho" Olson.

For those few, brief seconds, Robinson looked like the Sugar Ray of old—sharp, swift, ruthless. Rindone, who hadn't fought in several months, offered little in the way of an attack and was unable to ward off Robinson's wild, finishing flurry.

Sugar Ray, weighing a lithe 159 to Rindone's 163½, was unimpressive in the first five rounds. He eyed Rindone as though he were "Rocky" Marciano.

As a crowd of 11,973 urged him on, Robinson tried his combinations to the head but repeatedly missed the target.

Gavilan Clears Path For Title Scrap

NEW YORK, Jan. 5 (AP)—Former welterweight champion Kid Gavilan cleared the way for a Johnny Saxton-Carmen Basilio title bout in Syracuse April 1 by withdrawing his claims for an immediate rematch with Saxton.

Saxton, who won the title from Gavilan in Philadelphia last October, and Basilio, the No. 1 contender, are expected to sign for the fight in a couple of days.

Upon receipt of Gavilan's withdrawal—in writing — Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, promised Gavilan a match with the Saxton-Basilio winner within 45 days of the Syracuse scrap.

Gavilan also was assured of a Feb. 23 date at Miami—possibly against Sugar Ray Robinson, ex-welterweight and middleweight king. Robinson holds two victories over the Cuban.

Southern Methodist Mentor Warns Against Pro Influence

NEW YORK, Jan. 5 (AP)—Colleges should not let their coaches or other athletic personnel participate in professional sports in any way, nor should college sports facilities be made available for pro activities, Madison (Matty) Bell of Southern Methodist University said today.

Speaking at a NCAA round-table meeting, Bell presented a report on college-pro relations which indicated strong resentment of some recent activities of the pros. This report grew out of the desire of the NCAA council and a special committee to clarify relations. Bell softened it somewhat by adding his personal opinion that the colleges would be foolish to "declare war" on pro football.

The report, pointing to the professional football television "invasion" of Saturday nights, stated: "We must make certain that there is always a firm and positive line of demarcation between the professionals and their money-making activities and the colleges' educational functions. For example, collegiate athletic personnel should not participate as scouts, players, officials, coaches or promoters in such professional sports as football, basketball, baseball, boxing, wrestling and so on. As another example, our college facilities should not be made available for professional sports activities."

Baltimore Official Surprised At Findings Of Novel Fan Poll

BALTIMORE, Jan. 5 (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles, apparently the first major league baseball team ever to apply this "scientific sample" business to its fans, found out today most of them are "white collar" workers.

And only 65 per cent invariably rooted for the Orioles.

Dick Armstrong, public relations director for the club, said some policy changes are in the works as the result of his findings.

He was surprised when tabulations indicated 26.1 per cent of the 1,669,910 fans who paid to see the Birds play here last year came from beyond Baltimore and environs.

Almost 80 per cent of the fans came to the stadium by automobile.

Almost 80 per cent of the fans came to the stadium by automobile.

Of the 26 per cent from out of town, more than half came from outside of Maryland, and more than half of these came from nearby Pennsylvania. Less than one per cent of the out of towners came from nearby Washington, only 2 per cent from Washington suburbs.

Armstrong's sampling confirmed that Baltimore is a night baseball town. More than half the answering fans said they would like to see 40 or more night games a season. More than 85 per cent were for at least 31 arlight games. The Oriole schedule for 1955 includes 34.

Cleveland's Indians were the favorite visiting baseball team here last summer, 17 per cent of the Baltimore fans invariably rooting for them.

RILEY

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

STROUDSBURG fell before Cata-sauqua in the first Lehigh Valley League basketball game of the season by a 72-64 score. But in losing their third straight decision the Mountaineers demonstrated that they can play good basketball on big courts, a feat that many people thought virtually impossible. Stroudsburg actually stopped Cata-sauqua's fast breaking offense, but couldn't hit on enough of its own offensive opportunities to swing the victory.

The startling part of the entire game was the fact that Catty actually dominated play on Stroudsburg's offensive board. On the defensive board the Mountaineers held sway, but the advantage wasn't quite enough to turn the tide of battle, although the outcome of the game was in doubt right up to the final whistle. Stroudsburg was supported by the largest crowd to follow the Mountaineers on the road in recent years. There were as many adults present as is usually the case at home.

Howard "Howie" Case and Mike Dulik, two of Catty's big offensive guns did the bulk of their damage in the second half. Dulik, who finished the contest with 18 points on six field goals and the same number of foul shots, didn't have a field goal in the first half. Mike, who is also a brilliant football performer, was forced out of Tuesday's game with a twisted ankle in the final moments of the fourth quarter.

Cata-sauqua was charged with only one personal foul in the first half and only four at the three-quarter mark. Stroudsburg was presented with only 11 foul shots in the entire contest. Case, who finished the game with 21 points, had only two field goals in the first two periods of play. Dave Nevil was the big point producer for Stroudsburg with 22 tallies. Dick Little had 18 and Doug Shook 14. Don Deibler drew down much praise for his work on the backboards.

A Cata-sauqua fan suffered a serious heart attack between the junior varsity and varsity contests. Stroudsburg players are now required to wear coats and ties to all basketball games. This is a ruling first inaugurated by Sam Russell, when he coached the Mountaineers three years ago. Sam, who won the Lehigh-Northampton League championship last year at Wilson Borough, appears to be on the way to the first half title in the same league and with the same team this season. Wilson is currently boasting a mark of three wins and no defeats, and is the only unbeaten club in the circuit at the present time.

East Stroudsburg's 63-48 victory over Phillipsburg, in a non-league contest, on Tuesday enabled the Cavaliers to place two favorable decisions back to back for the first time this season. The Cavaliers demonstrated a varied attack while turning in their fourth victory of the season. They had five straight wins, Coach Dick Forster's different offensive technique which seemed to work well against the invader from New Jersey.

The new attack, especially against Lehigh-Northampton League opposition, should keep the opposing players from converging on Bill Pensyl under the basket. If they do converge on the high scoring center Barry Lambert and Howard Smith will receive an opportunity to shoot from the corners and Bill Sommers may set up for long shots as he did against Phillipsburg. Under the new setup Bob "Red" Kupiszewski is free to chase the ball all over the court and shoot from various spots on the floor.

Smith, Pensyl and Sommers each hit in double figures with 19, 16 and 11 counters respectively against Phillipsburg. The Cavaliers demonstrated good strength on the boards and a fair amount of speed. Coach Forster wasn't quite satisfied with the work of his charges against the Garnett and held a short rest immediately after the contest to iron out some of the kinks. The Cavaliers met powerful Fountain Hill on the East Stroudsburg court tomorrow night.

East Stroudsburg doesn't play six straight games on the road beginning next Tuesday as reported in this column recently. Actually the Cavaliers play five of their next six contests on the road. They meet Fountain Hill at home Friday, then play Pen Argyl and Nazareth away next week. Tuesday, January 18, will find Eastburg at home with Hellertown. The next three contests will be played on the road. January 18 will also feature Stroudsburg at home against Palmerton.

Pocono Mountains Court League Lists Two Contests

Both Outings Slated For Tannersville

TANNERSVILLE—A doubleheader here on the Pocono High School court will highlight the Pocono Mountains Basketball League activity for today. The first contest is slated for 7:15 p.m. and the nightcap for approximately 8:30.

The initial contest will pit West End against Gray's Chevrolet, the defending regular season and playoff champion in the circuit.

Gray's club opened the season on Tuesday night with a 67-63 verdict over the Stroudsburg Poconos, on the Stroudsburg High court.

West End on the other hand suffered a 115-55 reversal at the hands of the Poconos last Monday. This contest was played in the Chestnuthill High gymnasium, in Brodheadsville.

Tonight's second clash will send Barrett and Johnson's Diner against each other. Both are still searching for their initial victories.

Johnson's Diner lost its opening game to Lake Harmony, 82-75, and Barrett was beaten by Williams' Pharmacy, 78-61.

Two games are also scheduled for Saturday night, both to be played on the Tobyhanna Township High court, in Pocono Pines. The opening encounter will pit West End against Lake Harmony, while Stroudsburg battles Williams' Pharmacy in the nightcap.

Stroud Ladies Bowl Tonight

STROUD LADIES' League keglers open the second half of their campaign at the Pocono Bowling Center today, at 7 p.m. Schedule follows:

Alleys one and two — Thomas Funeral Home vs. Bushkill Falls.
Alleys three and four — Pen Stroud Paint vs. Penn-Dell.
Alley's five and six — Mink's Floor covering vs. Bechman Oil.
Alleys seven and eight — Globe Furniture vs. George's Shoes.

Globe Furniture was high single team in the first half with a 780 mark. The same team won high match with a 2143 score. High single score among individuals was registered by Sara Kresge with a 190 count. High match honors went to Mary German, who hit a 481 count.

Owen Likes South Squad

MOBILE, Ala., Jan. 5 (P)—Coach Steve Owen admitted today he had a right fair South squad for Saturday's sixth annual Senior Bowl. North Coach Paul Brown agreed with Owen and made his annual prediction that his "rot-manned" Yankees would lose.

"We've got good talent and this might be the year we'll catch up with them," Owen said.

Brown's predictions to the contrary, the North has won the last three games under the coach of the championship Cleveland pro Browns. Owen, South coach for all five games, won the first two.

Kickoff for the Saturday game is 2:45 p.m. (EST). It will be broadcast by CBS but will not be televised.

Those which are to campaign under the nom-de-course of the Glad-Acre Farm are Great Blaze, a son of Tarquin 2nd—Cis Marion, Go Fox Go by Hypnotist 2nd—Preceptress and Good for Mike, a son of Free for All-Sue H.

Area Cocker Spaniel Captures Top Prize In New York Show

NEW YORK—Ch. Taylor's Dark Knight, a black cocker spaniel, was chosen Best in Show at the 38th annual National Specialty Show of the American Spaniel Club, here at the Hotel Roosevelt on Monday of this week.

Grid Coaches Make Spring Practice Pitch

NEW YORK, Jan. 5 (P)—The National Collegiate Athletic Assn. Council restored Arizona State College of Tempe to good standing today. The television committee, winding up its business for 1954, learned that football attendance during the past season was up 2.5 per cent in spite of increased TV "competition" and the college football coaches made a strong pitch for more spring practice.

These were the principal developments of the third day of the winter meetings of college sports leaders.

Arizona State, center of a recruiting "scandal" a couple of years ago, was handed a two-year probation starting Sept. 1, 1955.

The TV committee previously reported to the NCAA members that TV controls should be continued, and that a new committee should draw up a 1955 plan, with due consideration for the assorted opinions which will be brought up in tomorrow's round table discussion.

In their separate meeting in another hotel, the members of the American Football Coaches Assn. got into a lively discussion of spring practice in their open discussion session. They unanimously approved the AFCA Rules Committee's recommendations for three changes in the code, including a liberalization of the substitution rule. This will come up before the NCAA Rules Committee next week.

The coaches finally agreed on a resolution that spring football practice, now limited to 20 sessions within a 36-day period by a NCAA rule, should be extended to a total of 60 hours: five two-hour periods a week within a period of six calendar weeks, exclusive of vacation periods.

League To Settle Problem

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 5 (P)—Decision on Columbus' entry into the International League baseball circuit will be made known Friday, it was announced today.

George M. Trautman, minor league baseball commissioner, called a press conference here Friday to announce the decision.

A group of Columbus business men have been negotiating for the International League franchise now held by Ottawa, Canada. Columbus was left without a baseball club when the St. Louis Cardinals transferred the Columbus Redbirds of the American Assn. to Omaha.

Dodgers Sign Two Hurlers

BROOKLYN, Jan. 5 (P)—The Brooklyn Dodgers today announced that Joe Black, 31, and Ed Roebuck, 23, a pair of pitching hopefuls promoted from their Montreal farm club, had signed their contracts for the 1955 season.

Black is the same fellow who virtually singlehandedly pitched the Dodgers to their 1952 pennant when he turned in 15 victories and saved at least as many more in relief roles to gain the rookie of the year award.

Joe proved a one-year flash, however, and after a poor season in 1953 and off to an even worse start last year, had to be shipped back to Montreal.

Moscow Opens Quest For Wayne Title

HONESDALE — Moscow, recent winner of the East Stroudsburg Christmas Tournament, will see action for the first time in the current Wayne County Basketball Conference race tomorrow night when the Trojans play host to Honesdale.

The Hornets-Trojans clash will headline a full slate of four games as the WCC swing into high gear after the long holiday layoff. Greene-Dreher-Sterling, also stepping out in conference competition for the first time this year, takes on the Warriors' boards; Pleasant Mount, a dark horse contender for honors, invades Hawley and Lake Ariel, currently leading the pack, travels to Damascus to battle the tougher-than-usual Swordsmen.

Damascus finished third in the recent East Stroudsburg tournament in which a field of eight quintets took part.

Friday's battles touch off a strenuous campaign which will end February 25 with an inter-division playoff to follow. With a few exceptions, games are scheduled for Tuesday and Friday nights.

A large crowd was in attendance at the show.

Pope Pius Cagers To Search For First Victory Of Season In Tilt With Phillipsburg Parochial

ROSETO—Pope Pius X High School will make its fifth trip to the basketball court against non-league opposition tonight when the charges of Coach Joe Villano tangle with Phillipsburg Parochial High's junior varsity quintet. The game will be played here on the Roseto Public School court at 7:30 p.m.

A preliminary tussle between the girls of Pope Pius High will take place at 6:30 p.m.

Villano announced yesterday that his starting lineup for tonight will feature Mike Caponigro and Al DeFranco at the forward posts; Anthony Renaldo, center, and Bob Dallesandro and Sam Janette at the guard diggings.

Others likely to see action are Fred DeRay, Paul Schork, Mike Sabatine, Anthony Cerino, Dave Muffley, Sal Lopiano, Joe Sylvester and Armond DeFranco.

Pope Pius has suffered defeat at the hands of Easton Catholic junior varsity, Blairstown, Allentown Central Catholic junior varsity and Phillipsburg Parochial JVs in an early clash.

This same Pope Pius squad is taking part in the Catholic Youth League this season. The circuit is composed of Catholic schools in the Northampton County area.

In league play Pope Pius has scored a victory over St. James, Easton, while falling before St. Rocco's, Martins Creek.

The Roseto school is featuring a full schedule and has a host of contests remaining on the agenda.

Beau Jack Found Physically Sound For Boxing

COLUMBIA, S.C., Jan. 5 (P)—The Richland County Boxing Commission today declared former lightweight champion Beau Jack physically fit and able to return to professional boxing.

Jack, scheduled to fight Eddie Green of Kannapolis, N.C., here Jan. 20, was examined by two Columbia physicians who filed a favorable report with the commission.

Commission Chairman Norbert Theodore said, however, that he will seek additional information concerning his contractual tie-up with New York manager Chick Wergeles.

Wergeles said earlier in New York that Jack still is under contract to him and he will not permit the boxer to fight again.

Wergeles had said that Jack was unable to fight because of bad knees and he would "get hurt" if he attempted a comeback.

It's here today! A NEW Total Power
Esso Extra Gasoline with the...

HIGHEST OCTANE OF ALL TIME!

...will give your car
EXTRA-OCTANE PERFORMANCE!

This vastly improved new TOTAL POWER Esso Extra is the highest octane gasoline ever offered you for your car — higher by far than any other gasoline! It meets the requirements of every one of today's automobiles—regardless of compression ratio. Try a tankful today. Now more than ever the best gasoline you can buy.

How to get continuous EXTRA-OCTANE PERFORMANCE...

The continued power output of your engine depends on both your gasoline and your motor oil! Your gasoline actually supplies the power, but your motor oil must keep your engine clean enough to deliver this power. When you use ordinary motor oils, power-robbing carbon deposits build up in your engine—thus reducing the power that any gasoline can give you. Esso Standard's great new Uniflo Motor Oil has been scientifically designed to combat these carbon deposits. Used in combination with new TOTAL POWER Esso Extra Gasoline it will give you continuous EXTRA-OCTANE PERFORMANCE—mile after mile and month after month!

Fines Total $4,033 During Past Year

EAST STROUDSBURG borough collected $4,033 in fines during 1954, according to the annual police report.

A breakdown of the total amount shown by the report: $2,625 in fines for motor and penal violations; $786 in one dollar fines for which a summons was issued and $622 for twenty-five cent fines involving parking tickets.

The report, issued yesterday by Arthur Swink, borough police chief, shows that 135 automobile accidents involving more than $100 damage were recorded. Accidents involving less than $100 totaled 118.

Two pedestrians were hit by cars during the year. Neither was fatal. In addition there were six cases in which children riding on bicycles were hit by motor vehicles. Again, no fatalities.

To patrol the territory in the borough, the police force operated the police car 26,227 miles using 2,886 gallons of gas. The force had 89 "lodgers" for the year and answered 247 police calls by the "red light" system.

Suspended sentences included three charged with excessive speed; two with irregularity in observing traffic lights; 14 for drunk and disorderly conduct and four for disorderly conduct.

STROUDSBURG STORES WILL BE

Open Until 9 P.M.

AND CLOSE SATURDAY NIGHTS AT 6 P.M.

Only after many months of careful consideration Stroudsburg retail merchants have decided to change shopping nights from Saturday to FRIDAY NIGHT. For many years now the popular trend throughout the country in big cities and smaller towns has been to nights other than Saturday night. And, it has been the feeling of local merchants that families in this retail trading area, being no different than millions of other folks, might find it more convenient to do their family shopping on Friday Nights and thus free them of the burden of late weekend shopping. It is with the consideration of the welfare and desires of the thousands of families who shop regularly in Stroudsburg, that, beginning this Friday night Stroudsburg Stores will be open for your shopping convenience until 9 P.M. Stores will close Saturday nights at 6 P.M.
